This site is an information system which contains a database that has been created and published via the internet with the sole aim of providing information. The data contained herein may be freely used, downloaded and reproduced, but it is not for sale or for use in conjunction with commercial or promotional purposes. Any use of this information shall be subject to an appropriate acknowledgement of the source.

The material published in this site was put together based on the administrative norms and practices in force in 2007 in Ethiopia. The Ethiopian Investment Agency (EIA) checked this information and is in charge of its constant update; nevertheless due to a business engineering process taking place in the Ethiopian Government the data contained in this page could differ from the actual situation. The EIA or any of the other entities mentioned in the system are not responsible or liable for inaccuracies in the information and expressly deny any responsibility for its use as well as for any errors or omissions in the content. If there are any discrepancies in the information published in this site and official printed documents, the latter prevail.

This database was developed as part of a technical assistance project provided by the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development (UNCTAD) to the Ethiopian government and the project was funded by the Royal Netherlands Embassy in Ethiopia.

By consulting this site, the user grants the broadest, most complete, effective and irrevocable waiver to the developers of the system, EIA and all other sources of information mentioned in this site, freeing them absolutely from any kind of responsibility for the use of this system, creating the obligation to not petition or claim anything.
